Are there any assumptions?

There are certain parameters that a bank statement must follow to be classified as Salaried

Some questions will make things clear....

> Minimum how many months of data is needed?

> Minimum how many times should a potential salary transaction appear?

> How regular credits must be on a scale of 0-1 ?

> How much can salary amount realistically vary?

> What's the minimum realistic monthly salary?

> What's the maximum realistic monthly salary?

Basically our evaluation will be based on these assumptions
